Blue Key Names Moore "Man of the Month"

By twice winning the AAU's Most Outstanding Wrestler award, Moore has proven himself to be a grappler of high quality.

Dave is one of three NWMSC matmen who will compete in the NCAA Wrestling Tournament at Stillwater, Oklahoma.

Peterson Quotes

Upon hearing of Moore's selection by Blue Key, Wrest-

Dave Moore

ing Mentor, Dr. H. D. Peterson offered these comments concerning his protege, "Dave Moore has been a good leader of our team, and is a hard and conscientious worker."

Peterson further commented, "Dave Moore is a definite asset to our athletic program and to our school."

Senate Studies Future Projects

Joe Merrigan, student body president, announced that the Student Senate has started action on several matters of interest to the entire student body.

The first of the actions was the formation of a senate committee to investigate and set up a conference of student governments from various schools within the state. This will be an exchange of ideas program similar to the conference recently held at Eastern Illinois University.

The second problem that the senate is investigating is the possibility of a pre-final study day which would give the students a full day of study before the tests started.

Student discipline is the third field of study now under consideration in the senate. The old probationary action is being partially discarded and a trend toward a less stringent form of probation is being proclaimed.

"These actions," commented Merrigan, "are in the process of organization. They should be of vital interest to every member of the campus community."

Kappa Delta Pi Sponsor Contest

All students who have book collections are urged to enter them in the campus Bibliophile Contest sponsored by Kappa Delta Pi. The deadline for entering a collection is March 23.

Paperback books are permissible as judging will be by title and not by binding. Those seniors entering will have a chance to compete in a national bibliophile contest in addition to the campus competition.

Rule sheets are available in Dr. Harr's office and copies are being sent to each campus organization. Cash awards for the winners will be: first place—$10.00; second place—$7.50; and third place—$5.00.

Why Newspapers Are Like Women

Under that caption, the following list has been kicking around editorial pages for a long time, but the last line has a great deal of validity for the school papers that must sell circulation around dorms or houses:

- because...
- they are bold face type
- they have forms
- they always have the last word
- they are well worth looking over
- back numbers are not in demand
- they carry news wherever they go
- they have a great deal of influence
- you can't believe everything they say (a canard on both!)
- if they know anything they usually tell it
- they are never afraid to speak their minds
- they are much thinner than they used to be
- every man should have his own and not bother his neighbor's.

Below is a sample of the Mid-terms examinations at CRACKERBARREL CORRESPONDENCE SCHOOL. If Mid-terms at your present college become too much to endure, try taking this test. If you get three questions correct, you have an excellent chance of receiving an 'A' at CRACKERBARREL.

CRACKERBARREL SCHOOL recommends that if you are now attending another school, "Don't be a suitcase student, stick around for the midterms."

Questions:

- The world's richest man is an American.
- The world's handshaking record is held by a Republican.
- The longest measured home-run carried over 600 feet.
- The world's most expensive car is English.
- A man has typed at over 200 words a minute.
- No "Miss America" has ever had a bust measurement over 38 inches.
- The tallest building in Texas is not among the 20 highest in the U. S.
- No man has ever run up the Empire State building in under 30 minutes.

Campus Sieged By Epidemic

I visited the doctor recently, and after he had put me through the usual routine of sticking out the tongue and saying, "aaaahh" (while calmly choking to death on his popsicle stick), being knocked on the knee with his trusty little sledge hammer, having a drop (?) of blood drained from the little finger, etc., etc., he pronounced me an incurable victim of an early case of . . . spring fever!

Well, now, I'll admit he was right; but what he neglected to note was that there are two types of fever. One is the typical, lazy, lackadaisical kind, generally associated with spring. The other fits more aptly with a different definition of fever—an eagerness for something. Aha, now you're thinking, but I'm afraid not along the right lines.

Really, I am afflicted with a variation which consists of a mixture of both.

I am anxious to finish the year, but at the same time hate to have it over. I am anxious to go home, but hate to leave my friends. I am anxious to get good grades, but hate to work.

Sometimes I wonder if the student is the only one taken down by this chronic disease. Wouldn't it be sharp if the professors were anxious for us to get good grades and hated to see us work for them!

Earlham Plans New Approach To Nat'l Issues

Deciding not to consider political issues as a body under its present structure, Student Senate on the campus of Earlham College recently created a committee to investigate the possibility of setting up an organization to handle off-campus issues.

The resolution: "It is the opinion and interpretation of the 1961-62 Senate that the Senate should encourage the education and stimulation of opinions of the Earlham Senate is not the proper body to hand down approval or disapproval of a controversial, far-reaching topic because of the representative assumption involved in a decision of this type."

Commenting on the discussion, President Landrum Bolling spoke to the Senate of a new idea that occurred to him. He suggested that Earlham send a busload of students to Washington as an "educational pilgrimage" to question government officials on political issues. This plan would show student concern, but would not offer a "wrapped-up solution." It would be a "demonstration" showing diversity, since all views would be represented.

President Bolling spoke of his "sense of unease" about political activity of student organizations. He said that "professional youth leaders" sometimes manipulate groups to back issues they don't understand. He disputed the "political witness-taking approach to political education."

Dr. Dildine Displays Chinese Articles in Home

Dr. and Mrs. Harry Dildine are pictured above as they display some of the Chinese articles to two Maryville High Students.

"In the spirit of love and brotherhood, we tried to contribute to the building of character and knowledge in Chinese youth." These are the words used by Dr. and Mrs. Harry G. Dildine when they were recently asked to summarize their experiences of serving as missionaries in China.

Dr. Dildine, who has been on the college faculty for 34 years, and his wife spent 19 years of their early married life serving the Chinese people. The Dildine's two children were born and reared through their high school years, living with the Chinese people, eating their food, speaking their language and wearing their native clothing.

Before going to China in 1903, Dr. and Mrs. Dildine were attending classes at the Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois, with hopes of eventually becoming doctors. Since they could not afford the necessary advanced education at that time, the Dildine's decided to become missionaries. Both were interested in serving mankind and realized the opportunities their chosen work offered. Although they originally planned their work in China to be only a temporary stay, neither of them have ever regretted their choice to stay on and serve the Chinese people.

Decorating the Dildine home are many souvenirs from their "homeland," and there is no doubt that each item has a memorable story behind it.

Dr. Dildine recalls that probably the most thrilling part of the work he and his wife did was to watch the Chinese people slowly throw off their ancient customs and replace them with education. Educating these people, so much influenced by the teachings of Confucious and the ancient traditions of their country, was not easy. Changes had to be made gradually updating the curriculum.

Dr. and Mrs. Dildine treasure their experiences and admit that they still have much interest in the Chinese people and anyone who is interested in China and her people. By living among these people, they shared both their good times and their bad times, and really got to know them.

Can I Give You My Bank Reference?

You certainly can! In opening a charge account or doing business with strangers, a good bank reference can be exceedingly helpful.

It pays to establish yourself with a bank, make it your headquarters for money matters. And when you need the boost that a recommendation can provide, a good bank reference is one of the most valuable assets you can possess.

Missourian Takes Stand

With two staff members running as active candidates in the current election, The Missourian finds itself in a rather difficult position.

The Missourian is an all school paper. It cannot give support to any slate. It is trying to give equal coverage to all slates and all candidates. It has left the responsibility for supplying news and pictures relating to the campaign to the respective candidates.

Political news has been edited by Joyce Iwen and Caroline Enis under the supervision of the adviser; such news has not been handled by the candidates on the staff.

The Missourian urges all candidates to support the college oath:

We will never bring disgrace to this our College, by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the college.

We will rever and obey the College laws and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in others.

We will transmit this College to those who come after us, greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us.

WHY PICTURES DIFFER

The difference in pictures is due to the fact that each candidate was asked to turn in his own picture.

Phi Sigma Epsilon

1. To promote better relationships between city and campus by the exchange of ideas between NWMSC student government and the Maryville Chamber of Commerce.

2. To re-establish a limited hazing program that is carefully supervised and participated in by all members of the student body. This would also produce a beneficial effect in regard to increasing school spirit at athletic contests.

3. To open wider avenues of student self-expression through a more liberal student publication without fear of censorship.

4. To increase the role by all students in influencing their student government by the expression of their ideas, needs and desires.

5. In the field of student disciplinary action to urge that other methods, rather than the traditional social probation punishment, are essential for the betterment of the campus environment.

6. The adoption of a pre-finals study-day with no scheduled classes. Also proposed, an attempt to influence the reducing of the academic load during such hectic weeks as Homecoming.

7. To seek a closer coordination between the Student Senate and the Union Board in an attempt to continue and improve week-end entertainment for the students.

8. The initiation of a program of exchange of ideas between other colleges and their governing bodies.

Well, denrats, after the short period of 118 hours, your hermitage will be dirged with slow, sorrowful music and sad faces. Shortly replaced by very loud music and feverish bridge players, your comrades will be suffering from a mild case of hysteria.

However, the cycle doesn't hit only in the Den. Taking a different hue, it shades the dorm. Everything gets quieter and quieter, then slowly but surely breaks into noise warnings.

What is it? This dreadful thing that is hitting campus and plays havoc with the sensible? Mid-Semester Examinations. In plain simple English: To get a pink slip, or not to get a pink slip—that is the question. Or, is the question what could your teachers possibly ask you, from March 26 to 30.

And All That Jazz

Hi! That's all I could think of after trying to come up with something unique and original to get this blast off with a bang. So, I guess that'll have to do until something better comes along. And . . . hi!! again.

It's been some time since I've written this sort of guff, so if you'll bear with me perhaps I'll be able to come up with a few gems of wisdom. And then again, maybe we'll both give up in despair and disgust.

Six weeks have gone by already this semester and nothing new has come along to change the grind one iota. Day and night, night and day. Get up, eat, limp off to class, eat and then back to sleep. Maybe someone else will start twisting—or I've got a brilliant idea. How about some ingenious student starting a rocking chair contest? You know, like "I bet my room mate can rock longer than yours. I'll even give you odds." Yeah, I'll even give you odds that it won't get started, but at least I tried.

Now that I do ponder the situation—there is something to pep up the "Nothingville" atmosphere. The election campaigns will soon be off in full swing. Some well-qualified candidates are in the line-up and everyone should pick "his" man. I think everyone will agree that this is the time to do something for NWMSC. During the year you hear lots of gripes, groans and moans over how things are done and how things aren't done. And now, March 23, will be practically the only time to do something about those complaints. So a word to the wise, be sure and make an x-mark for the right man. The man who's above petty ideas and "Good-time, Charley"-ness, but who will try to better our school, yours and mine.

All you poets and writers at this conventional artists colony on the Nodaway—have you cats heard about the literary issue of the Northwest Missourian? It'll be a good chance to see your attempts at immortality in print. Deadline: March 23.

Be good and careful—And, don't forget as my roomie says, to "Crack the books and chisel the words". —Jim Dash

New Graphic Arts Course Offered in I. A.

A new addition to the IA Building is being utilized this semester by the recently installed Graphic Arts. The addition covers approximately 2,000 square feet of floor space.

The Industrial Arts dept. is offering an introductory course at this time, but plans for expansion include a second course. Taught by Mr. Peter Jackson, this basic course, IA 60, deals primarily with work in lithography. Additional instruction includes gravure, silk screen and book binding. The students enrolled in this course have access to two power and hand-fed presses and various other types of equipment.

The jobs in the area of lithography are in preparation for learning the aspects of off-set work, which is quite important in the printing industry today.

This type of work is new at Northwest Missouri State College, but there seems to be a great deal of interest and enthusiasm displayed by the students. Although the field has not been offered previously, it is an accepted Industrial Arts type of work.

The work done by the students is done purely for instructional purposes, rather than for production.

At a later date the Graphic Arts Division will add equipment so that students interested in camera work and developing room techniques may receive instruction.

Art Club Tours Joslyn Museum

The Delta Zeta State Day will be held at Southwest Missouri State College, Springfield Missouri, March 31.

Tomorrow, March 22, the Naval Reserve Team will be here at NWMSC campus. The team will make their headquarters in the den.

Insurance for Students

State Farm Mutual, an automobile insurance company, has introduced a "Good Student Discount" plan.

To qualify for a twenty percent discount on car insurance, a single male from sixteen to twenty-five must be a full-time student in a high school, junior college, college, or university. He must rank in the top twenty percent of his class, he must have a grade average of "B" or he must be on the dean's list, honor roll or other similar list.

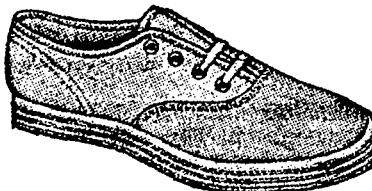

Drivers who qualify will save as much as $100 annually on auto insurance depending on the rates they now pay. A single form must be obtained by the student from the State Farm and presented to the school administration for certification of the student's scholastic record.

Chalk Talk . . . Bob Cobb

Congratulations are in order for the new Man of the Month, wrestler Dave Moore. Going along with the wrestling theme, we wonder if our grapplers are contemplating turning pro after their TV stint. We've heard a course in dramatics is a prerequisite for a successful mat career.

Work on the new indoor track is progressing quite well according to athletic department officials. The establishment of this track will give NWMSC track-men the facilities to work out when the weather man won't permit outside workouts.

Question

What former MIAA all star was recently named coach of what? A professional basketball team?

The former MIAA all star is Harry Gallatin and he has signed to coach the pro St. Louis Hawks. This is the same Harry Gallatin who competed for Kirksville against the Bearcats during the coaching reign of Athletic Director, Ryland Milner. Coach Milner definitely recalls the days the 6'6", 225 rebounder struck fear in the hearts of the MIAA opposition.

Until recently, Gallatin held the NBA record of 643 consecutive games played.

Turning to coaching, Gallatin piloted the Southern Illinois varsity for three seasons before signing with the Hawks for a reported $35,000 a year.

Baseball

Speaking of professional sports, let us be one of the first, and maybe the last to pick the St. Louis Cardinals to win the National League championship. In the American League, we'll go along with the perennial favorites, the New York Yankees.

Debaters Enter Tournament in Omaha, Neb.

Friday, March 16, two teams of debators from NWMSC took part in a cross-examination invitational tournament held at Omaha University, Omaha, Nebraska. This was the first time they debated in this type of tournament.

Teams consisted of Priscilla Porter, Jeannie Morris, Lona Moeller, and Bob Cotter.

The cross-examination debate is different from the regular debate in that it follows court-room procedure, a much more complex manner of debate.

This year the National Collegiate Topic, which is used as the standard by all schools, is resolved: That Labor Organizations Should Be Under the Jurisdiction of Anti-Trust Legislation.

The quarter-finals, semi-finals, and finals will be held weekly from March 31 through May 12. The top team from the U. S. will meet with the British Champion on May 19.

Baker Reports Eight Returning

Coach Earl Baker opened track practices recently with fifty prospects reporting. Among the fifty, there were eight returning lettermen.

Following is a list of lettermen with their particular events: Harold Plagman, 880 yd. and mile relays; John Gilliland, mile relay; and high jump; Ken Carver, shotput; Richard Miller, pole vault.

Chris West, high jump; Harold Gentry, pole vault and javelin; Bill Meyers, javelin; Larry Ireland, javelin.

There are a number of top prospects for all events. They are Roger Still, Larry Hornbostel and Bob Clark in the high and low hurdles; Allan Jensen, Roger Walker, and Jack Gibson in the mile and two mile runs; Darrell Cotter, Tom Hummel, and Gerald Casey in the 440 yd. run.

Don Gibson, Gene Oltman, Dick Suyder, Jim Thompson, and T. Anthan in the 100, 220 yd. dashes and 880 yd. relays; Leigh Ragle, Stan Stillwagon, and Tom Baker in the shot put and discus; Roger Dahl, Roger Pilcher, Tom Boatman in the pole vault; Doug Price, Don Gibson, and Dick Snyder in the broad jump; Ed Whitaker in the javelin.

Coach Baker stated that if the weather improved so his squad could get outside for some practice that his squad would make a fair showing for themselves. The weather so far has hampered any outside activity and as a result, the squad has not been able to get ready for the MIAA indoor meet to be held in Columbia this week.

The schedule for the NWMSC thinclads is:

March 17 MIAA Indoor Meet at Columbia, Missouri.
